

FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

FEBRUARY 6, 2022

Gospel Luke 5:1-11

While the crowd was pressing in on Jesus and listening to the word of God, he was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret.

He saw two boats there alongside the lake; the fishermen had disembarked and were washing their nets.

Getting into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, he asked him to put out a short distance from the shore.

Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat.

After he had finished speaking, he said to Simon,

“Put out into deep water and lower your nets for a catch.”

Simon said in reply,

“Master, we have worked hard all night and have caught nothing, but at your command I will lower the nets.”

When they had done this, they caught a great number of fish and their nets were tearing.

They signaled to their partners in the other boat to come to help them.

They came and filled both boats

so that the boats were in danger of sinking.

When Simon Peter saw this, he fell at the knees of Jesus and said,

“Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man.”

For astonishment at the catch of fish they had made seized him and all those with him, and likewise James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners of Simon.

Jesus said to Simon, “Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching men.”

When they brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed him.

Opening Prayer

Keep your family safe, O Lord, with unfailing care, that, relying solely on the hope of heavenly grace, they may be defended always by your protection. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Reflecting on Living the Gospel

As we started to journey through Ordinary Time, we meet Jesus standing on the lakeside. Peter and his companions are tending to their nets after an unprofitable night's fishing. Then Jesus himself becomes a "fisherman." He gets into Simon's boat, hauls this probably nonplussed man in with him, and puts out a short way from the shore to continue teaching the crowd. After that, Jesus addresses his words to Simon only, telling him to launch out into the deep and put down his nets for a catch. Although he cannot resist reminding Jesus that their nets were empty the night before, in obedience to Jesus's words he casts them into the water.

Then a great reversal happens, as it does so often in the gospels and as it will for all those who are obedient to Jesus. Empty nets become full to the breaking point, and Peter's personal encounter with Jesus leads to the call of James and John to help with the catch; emptiness becomes fullness in not only one boat but two. Peter is as overwhelmed as the boats. He falls down at Jesus's feet, now calling him "Lord," the post-resurrection title that Luke throws back into this early episode so that those who hear this narrative will recognize the presence of the risen One throughout the whole of his gospel.

At the dawn of the third millennium, John Paul II reminded the church of this section of Luke's gospel: Duc in altum! Put out into the deep! These words ring out for us today, and they invite us to remember the past with gratitude, to live the present with enthusiasm, and to look forward to the future with confidence: "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever" (Heb 13:8). Now after more than two decades into the third millennium, how are we measuring up to this challenge?

Closing Prayer

Loving God, thank you for the gift of this day and the opportunity to grow in relationship with you. As you filled the nets to bursting, fill our hearts with your exceptional love. Through our daily labor may we remain faithful to your Gospel and the way of life to which we are called. Amen.

For Reflection:

- How might you be more attentive to the voice of God's invitation in your own life?

Suggestions for group and individual use:

1. Pray aloud the "Opening Prayer" (in The Roman Missal called the "collect").
2. One person read aloud the gospel.
3. Each read prayerfully "Reflecting on Living the Gospel" and spend some time in personal prayer.
4. Share together responses to "For Reflection."
5. Pray the "Closing Prayer."
